Walter Motherly, district officer of Rotary International, was the official visitor to the Palm Beach club yesterday. His speech was a masterpiece entitled, "The Spirit of Rotary." Rotarians and visitors listened attentively to the district governor as he drove the home point after point about Rotary and its splendid work throughout the world.

Interested spectators at the meeting were four visiting Rotarians from the recently organized Oklawaha club. They were: President Hiram Raulerson, S. R. Under, C. H. Parkinson and William J. Williams. Frank Rozelle, who was also a visitor.

The new members—Harry Peterson, Jack Spencer and Harry Claus—were officially welcomed into the club by the president, Dennis Caullif. I had the pleasure of presenting the new members to President Caullif. I believe all of them will make splendid Rotarians.

Following the regular meeting committee heads met in conference with the district governor and went over the year's work. The committee heads plan to believe that this year of Rotary under Dennis Caullif, president, is going to be a banner year for the Palm Beach club.

LIONS LETTER

Dear Lions in Service, I have taken my lot once again to write you a letter so I'll do my best.

We have really had some cold weather, I tried for so many days to freeze, so last week it finally succeeded, while there was quite a lot from I believe there was considerable snow.

I am sorry to tell you that Ross Bleech has been reported missing. Lynn Elzabeth has been wounded. Several of the boys are and have been home. Pete Delmoja, Jr. is home. Orestis Kestel and Cecil Gray and her husband Sydney Smith are a new daughter.

I guess you remember Roy Atkinson, Jr. he has been stationed in England, but is now in Maryland. While home on furlough he was married to Ann Bender, they used to go to school here.

I wish you could have been to the football game when our team played Belle Glade, for a while we held our breath but then it ended in a tie.

Mrs. W. A. Howell has sold her store across from the school to T. L. Burns, she is working in Denton's store which she used to be in. Did you know that Delmoja, who lost his store and several things in a big fire several weeks ago, has been able to rebuild his store.

Hollands To Return To Home At Bawto

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 28. (FNS)—Governor Holland will turn over the reins of state government to his successor, Millard Caldwell on January 2nd and return to Bawto to become Speaker of the House, Attorney-at-Law, unless the Army acts favorably on his application to enter the service. Mr. Holland is looking forward to returning to his home and is busy with plans for its improvement and the addition of a new trophy room to house the countless souvenirs gathered during his four years stay at the Mansion.

State To Comply With Racing Ban

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 28. (FNS)—Gov. Spensard L. H. Hunt, Governor-elect, Millard Caldwell and Sen. Claude Pepper said Tuesday in a joint statement that Florida will comply with the federal racing ban but they doubted that it will yield the expected benefit to the war effort.

"It is unfortunate that this action of the government could not have been earlier foreseen," they said after a "telephone conference" with War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, who had requested that all state tracks close on Jan. 3.

Since the ban on racing comes as a war measure, they said, "Florida, in keeping with its failing policy, will cheerfully comply."

An advised Justice Byrnes Tuesday by telephone after he had in plan that the order was in full compliance necessary to the war effort and that no exceptions could be made.

"It is fair to state, however, that the order will have a serious effect on the racing industry, which is a major source of revenue to the state. The loss in revenue this year will be $4,000,000 or more which, goes, under Florida law, to the counties, the schools and office assistance. This deficit can be supplied only by depleting to that extent the surplus now on hand, thereby weakening the state's ability to expand its aid to the schools and accomplish other vital objectives, including certain urgently needed postwar construction."

NOTICE TO SINNERS

There is a farmer who lives near San Juan Capistrano, Cal., who has a fine pasture, and in the pasture a small lake which has been much used by a Baptist congregation as a baptismal pool. This was all for the good of mankind.

But it appears some of the good brethren were careless, and after the ceremony would wander through the pasture gate and leave it open and the farmer's cattle would wander out and range over the country. That was all to the bad, so far as the farmer was concerned.

The pay-off comes in an advertisement the farmer placed in the San Juan Capistrano Coastline Dispatch recently. It reads:

NOTICE—Positively no more baptizing in my pasture. Twice here in the last two months, my gate has been left open by Christian people and before I chase my heifers all over the country again, all the sinners can go to Hell.

And that would appear to be final.—Bradenton Herald.

CIGARETTE STORY

There are no limits to human ingenuity, it would seem, as the cigarette industry revealed the other day in Manhattan.

When a New York tobacco shop denied a would-be customer his favorite brand, the latter made so much fuss that a policeman hustled him to the hoosegow. The next day when called before the magistrate, he was quite unrepentant. Indeed, he proudly pulled the sought-after brand from his pocket, and said the jail tobacco stand was well supplied and that if you could succeed in getting yourself locked up, you could get just what you wanted. The store owner withdrew the charges and the freed smoker inhaled on the police station steps.

I knew in a moment it must be old Nick. And I tried to cry out but my tongue was too thick.

THE EVERGLADES NEWS, CANAL POINT, FLORIDA

in my lap.
Then for some unknown reason, I wanted a drink!
So I started in feeling my way to the sink.

I got along fine 'till I stepped on the cat.
I don't recall just what occurred after that.
When I came to, the house was all flooded with light.
Altho under the table, I'm as high as a kite.

While visions of sugar plums danced in my head,
I somehow got up and then back into bed.
Then what to my wandering mind should appear
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.

The sleigh seemed to change to a red fire truck
And each reindeer turned into a bleary-eyed buck.
I knew in a moment it must be old Nick.
And I tried to cry out but my tongue was too thick.

Then the old devil whistled and shouted with glee
While the bucks pawed the earth and looked daggers at me.
Then he called them by name, and the names made me shudder.
When I heard them I felt like a ship minus rudder.

Now Egg-nog, Bacardi, Four Roses and Brandy
Now Fruit Cake, Cold Turkey, Gin Rickey and Candy.
To the tip of his dome, to the top of his skull,
Now whack away, crack away with thumps that are dull.

Then in a twinkling I felt on my roof
The prancing and pawing of each cloven hoof.
How long this went on I'm sure I can't say
But it seemed like eternity, plus a long day.

But finally the night after, Christmas had passed
And I found I really could think good at last.
So I thought of the New Year, a few days away.
And I made me a yow that no tempter can sway.

I'm sticking to water, don't even want ice
For the ice, nothing as tasty and nice.
And when I finally dozed off in a nap,
The ice woke me up when it fell.

The night after New Years may be rather some guys
But I've learned my lesson, and Brother, I'm wise.

You can have your victuals, and liquors that's red
But what goes to my stomach won't go to my head.
So a big Happy New Year to you and to all.
I'm back on the wagon and I hope I don't fall.

FLORIDA CAN BECOME THE Fashion Center OF THE AMERICAS

Tropical Fashions Created on the Spot!

Even before the war, the world was looking toward the American Riviera for the latest in fashions . . . the next summer's non-trend styles make their debut each winter in Florida. Post war expansion in Florida's great tourist business will accentuate this trend. Sojourners look to Florida as a proving ground . . . the step toward making it the real Fashion Center of the Nation is a short one . . . and forward looking Floridians can capitalize on this trend even further . . . where fashions are created, where, too, garments can be manufactured.

"TWICE THE NIGHT AFTER CHRISTMAS"
'Twas the night after Christmas, and boy what a house!
I felt like the devil, and so did the spouse.

The eggnog and turkey and candy were swell,
But ten hours later, they sure gave me hell.

The stockings weren't hung by the chimney with care,
The darn things every sprang on the back of a chair.
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
But I had a large cake of ice on my head.

And when I finally dozed off in a nap,
The ice woke me up when it fell.

Argue Squinting Qualities of Fruit

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 28. — (FNS) — Two western governors applied the squint test to Arizona-California grapefruit at a luncheon here last week and arrived at a unanimous verdict that western grown fruit does not squint.

The governors making the test were Herbert B. Maw of Utah, John J. Dempsey of New Mexico,

E. P. Carville of Nevada and Sam C. Ford of Montana.

Growers from the two western states later issued a challenge to Florida and Texas for four state "squint" contests and suggested that the contests be held in the Senate Restaurant at Washington.

Florida and Texas would enter such a contest with out hope of winning if "no squint" was the object because fruit from these states contain plenty of juice and no one can go monkeying around with a Florida grapefruit without getting an eyeful sooner or later. It is a well known fact that Florida fruit contains one-fourth more juice than western fruit, but most folks want plenty of juice in their citrus fruit. That's one contest Florida will be glad to enter and lose.

Frank Suggests Insurance Plan

TAMPA, Dec. 28. — (FNS) — Asher Frank, director of the Florida Safety Council, advocates a legislative program that would give Florida laws patterned after those now in force in 25 states that would place responsibility for damage on motorists who cause such damage.

If the damage was over $100 the car owner responsible for the accident would either have to pay the damage or lose his or her driver's license and Statagag until the bill is paid.

Frank is quoted as believing a compulsory insurance law would be unfair because the man who has never had an accident and driven carefully does not need insurance. It is further pointed out that compulsory insurance in some instances has resulted in the promotion of racketeers in which professionals made a regular business of wrecking their cars and collecting insurance.

The careful driver should be rewarded with a lower insurance rate than the careless driver. That such a system is possible was demonstrated by the American Fire & Casualty Company, which began business by selecting its customers or insuring what it termed "preferred" risks.

The small amount of damage claims was reflected in premium rates which were considerably reduced.

Friendliness WELL BECOMES A BANK

We haven't escaped the impact of war. We, too, have more work to do, more patriotic duties to perform, less help to handle everything. But we haven't "war nerves". Perhaps that's because each and every one on our staff, old and new, knows that "Friendliness well becomes a bank" has been our motto, and more than a motto, through other difficult times. Our friendliness has its roots in wide-spread community acquaintance, which makes it natural, sincere, spontaneous. We hope you'll feel its warmth in all our dealings. If by chance some of today's unfortunate attitude of indifference should creep in, we want to be the first to know about it!
